Moving up to conference play

Going up a level and still making improvement

Fall of 1994 found the Rock Island High School girls' volleyball team starting their second year in competition. While more wins would have been nice, the team did begin to show they do have talent and they will become a strong competitor with more time and experience.

The first season found the Rocky girls only playing a junior varsity schedule with a 1-14 record. This year, the girls moved to all varsity play and improved their record to 4-16. Moving up a level of play and improving the record showed the potential is there for a stronger team next year.

Coach Bass has high hopes for her team with eight returning letter winners next season. Six seniors and two juniors will be taking their experience and improving skills to the court.

All three coaches, Lisa Bass, varsity, Tim Albrecht, sophomores and Amy Sandgren, freshmen, worked their players hard on the overall skills of the game. Coach Bass especially focused on refining the skills that were introduced to the girls in their first season. Coach Bass stated that it takes a lot of practice and experience for the team to adjust to all the different offensive and defensive maneuvers of the opponents.

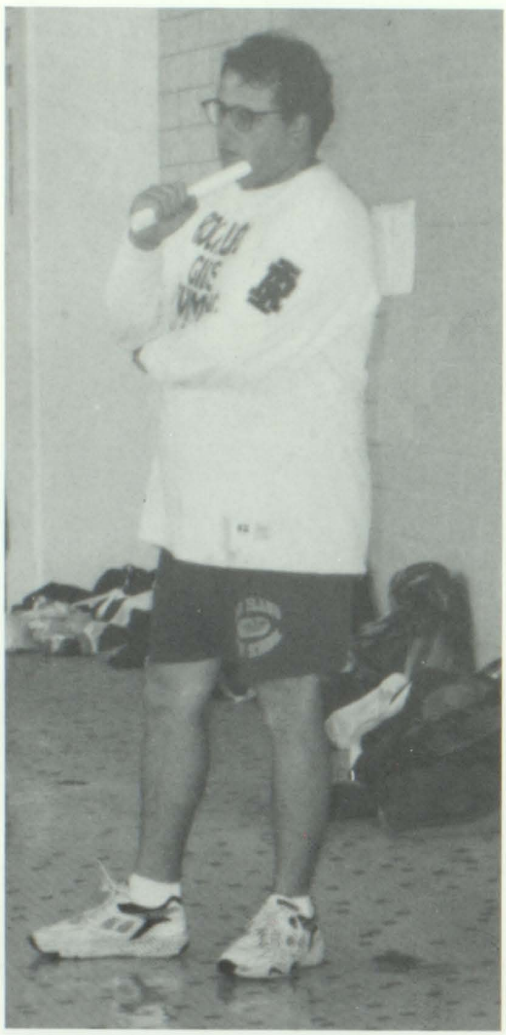
Doing very well at the Macomb tournament was the highlight of the teams season. The success at that competition showed the lady volleyball players that they will be able to get better with time and practice.

The sophomores, coached by Tim Albrecht had a 7-14 record this season. Working with a new coach meant a small adjustment at the beginning but the girls found his positive attitude soon helped lead to some winning games. Only two of the eleven players had previous high school experience so with their good season they are certain to make a positive impact on next years team.

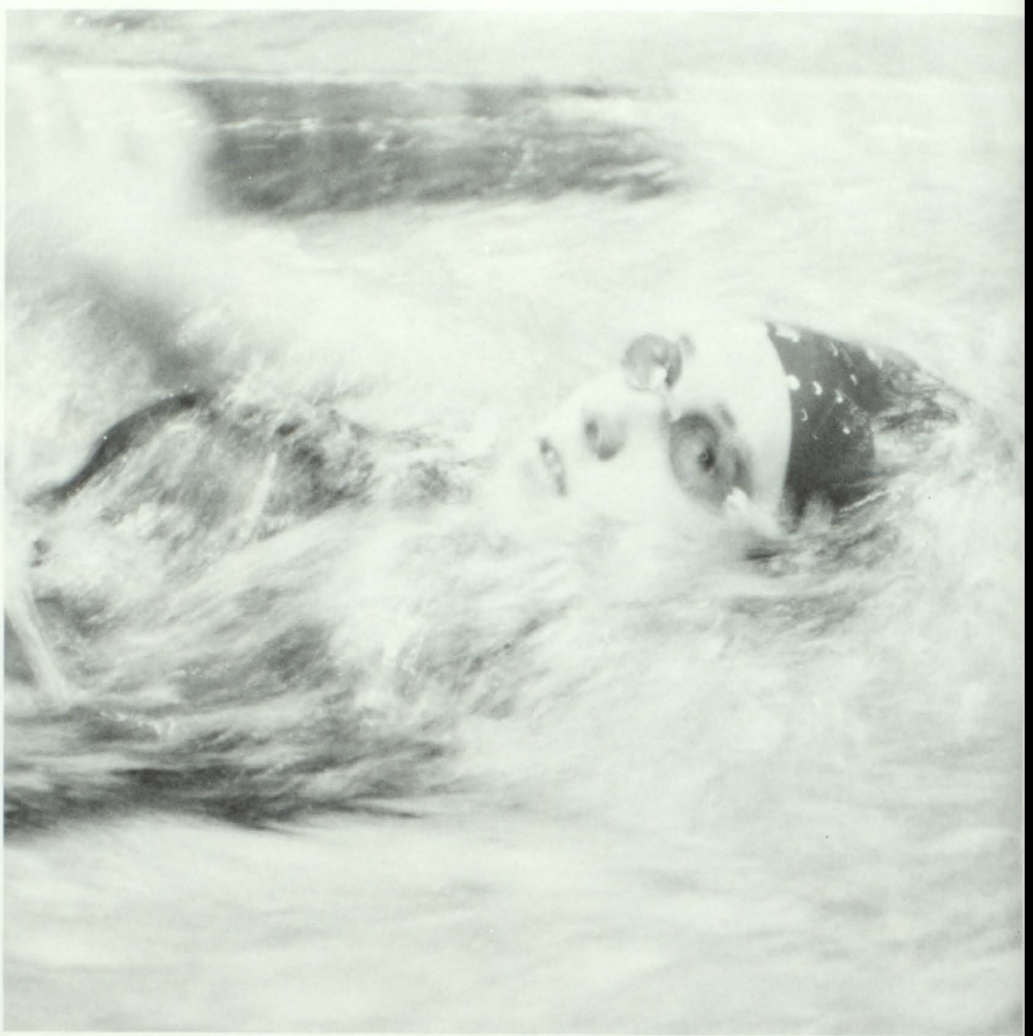
The coaches and players enjoyed their second season and look forward to showing continued improvement. Like many high school experiences volleyball will provide happy memories.

Tossing the ball high for a strong serve is one of Kellie DePooter's strong points.

Watching every swimmer's move, Coach Weber checks to make sure that everything is running smoothly.



Stroking her way to the finish, Mandy Baker puts forth a strong effort to help place the Rocks ahead of their opponent.



37-1-1 Senior swim record set

4 Time Big Six & Sectional champs...Six earn trip to State

Led by a strong group of senior swimmers, the lady Rocks rolled their way to another undefeated season with a record of 9-0, their fourth straight Big 6 and Sectional title. The Junior Varsity record was 3-6. They took third at the Muscatine JV Invite and fourth at the JV Big 6.

Receiving all the credit for an extraordinary season are Coaches Weber, Parsons, Twitty, and George.

The long practices as well as early hours in the water, led the senior swimmers to have a combined record of 37-1-1 over the last four years. Guiding the team along the way were captains Danielle Albracht, Kristi Lohmeier, Jennifer McWilliam, Laura Tutskey, Megan Varadi, and Jane VanDiver.

Records broken by the Rocky swimmers were the 200 Medley relay team of Kristi Lohmeier, Christina Johnson, Crystal Varadi, and Kate Schoonover with a time of 1:54.80. Lohmeier also broke records in the 100 freestyle with a time of 54.89 and the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:02.10.

Qualifying for the state meet in Evanston were Lohmeier (200 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 200 medley relay, and 400 freestyle relay), Megan Varadi (400 freestyle relay), Crystal Varadi (200 medley relay), Christina Johnson (200 medley relay), Liz Stephens (400 freestyle relay), and Kate Schoonover (200 medley relay and 400 freestyle relay).

At the state meet, Lohmeier stroked her way to a 22nd place finish in the backstroke and received 23rd place in the 200 freestyle. The 200 medley relay team of Lohmeier, Johnson, C. Varadi, and Schoonover were disqualified. The 400 freestyle relay team of Lohmeier, M. Varadi, Stephens, and Schoonover placed 20th at state.

Ending a successful season, Bengie Tyson, Jennifer McWilliam, Danielle Albracht, Megan Varadi, Jenny Aring, Jane VanDiver, Laura Tutskey, Kristi Lohmeier, and Jenna Enstrom are all smiles for their victories and many fond memories.

Rocks live up to motto "Steal your Race"

End season at 4-2, 3rd at Big Six, 2nd at Sectionals, send 1 to State

Rolling out of bed at 5:00 every morning and heading to swim practice was an everyday chore for the boys' swim team. Not only would their day start at 5:00 every morning, it usually would not end until 6:00 every night. Yard after yard would be swam and to much surprise, those yards would pay off in the end.

Led by captains Ben Scott and Eric Sholl, the Rocks finished 4-2 in the dual season, third in the Big Six, and second at Sectionals. In addition, they sent freshman Nic Varadi to the State meet held at New Trier High School in Winnetka.

The boys' swim team lived up to the motto, "Steal Your Race," every time they took to the water.

"All of our wins and losses were close," said Coach Jack Weber. The Rocks stole such meets as Pleasant Valley (109-59) and Davenport Central (77-22). The Rocks also put up fights to the bitter end when going up against Big Six rivals Moline and United Township. Each of those dual meets came down to the last relay. The Rocks lost the battle to Moline (95-91), but knocked off United Township (98-88).

The Rocks took third place at the Western Big Six meet held at United Township. Nic Varadi, the Rocks only conference champ, placed first in the 500 freestyle. Although Varadi was the only conference champ, Weber had high hopes in store for the Rocks' Sectional meet.

With those high hopes in store for Sectionals, the Rocks placed second out of sixteen teams, and sent freshman Nic Varadi to the State meet in Winnetka held at New Trier High School.

At the State meet in Winnetka, Varadi took 38th place with a time of 5:02.45 in the 500 freestyle.

With the Rocks season coming to an end, it was one season that will be remembered as one that was worth the hard work and dedication.

Laura Tutskey

Giving a thumbs up for receiving sixth place at Sectionals, Eric Sholl seems very pleased with how he placed.

Rocks wrestle towards success

Roberts places third in state

"We work ours.. to kick yours." This motto was not only worn on the shirts of this year's Rock Island wrestling team, it was branded into their hearts. Led by Senior Elijah Roberts, the Rocky matmen endured tribulation to complete a successful 11-7 season, highlighted by Roberts third place state finish.

The team started out strong, picking up big team victories against Alleman, and at the Sycamore and Urbana tournaments. Midway through the season though, the Rocks suffered two key losses. These losses were not on the mat, but in the form of two top wrestlers to suspension. The team continued to work hard though and earned a third place spot in the Western Big Six, finishing behind Moline and United Township.

Senior captain, Elijah Roberts, led this years team with an undefeated record, while devastating opponent after opponent. Roberts headed into this years state tournament with a full head of steam and a 32-0 record under his belt. Roberts cruised through Regionals and Sectionals, but came up a little short in Champaign, losing to the state champion in the semi-finals, and eventually bringing home a third place medal. Juniors Joe Chandler and Orlando Rangle, and Seniors Tremeir Morrow, John Woods, and Willie Cotton all turned in impressive seasons as well, but had their state dreams die in the Sectionals.

Robert's leadership and the success of Rocky's youngsters, in the form of Joe Chandler, Orlando Rangle and Adam Gustafson, combined to be an intricate part in this year's team success. With Chandler leading Rocky's youth back next year, the future is looking nothing but bright.

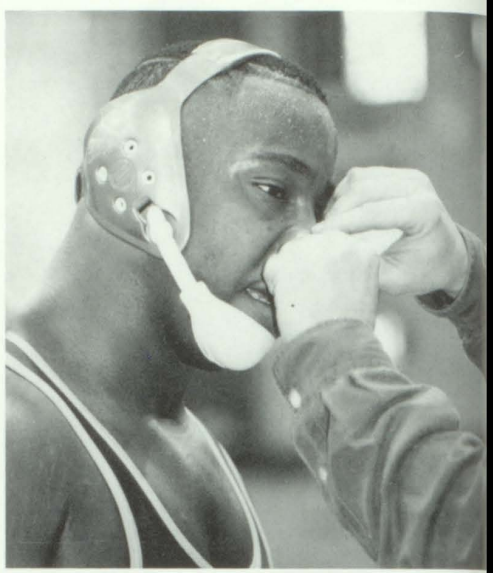
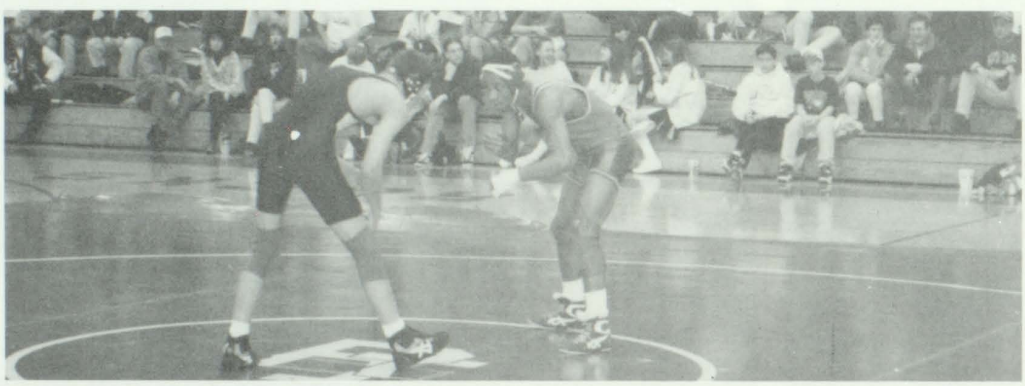
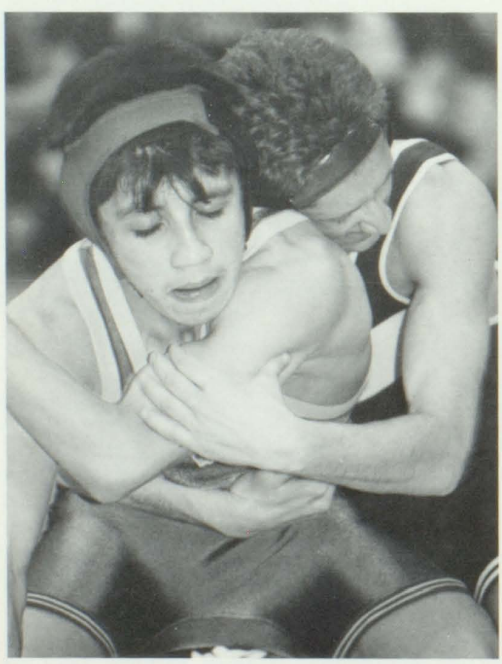
Under the watchful eye of Head Coach Mark Sabbag, the Rocks were guided to a strong 11-7 season

Grueling wrestling matches can bring injuries. Joe Chandler has his battle wounds attended to during a break in the action.







Grimacing with pain, Orlando Rangle plans his next move so he can win the match.

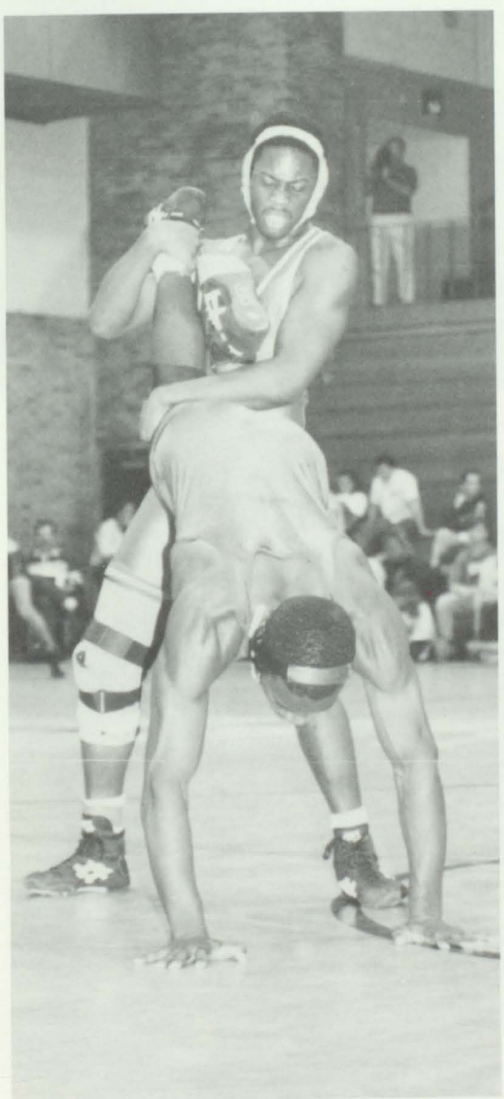
Despite casting a carefree glance into the stands, Elijah Roberts dominates his opponent, something he became very accustomed to this season.



Is this wrestler executing a perfect hand stand with a kick to the chin, or is Willie Cotton piledriving him to the mat?

He may be down but he is not out. Somehow John Woods will find a way to overcome his opponent and get the victory.

Lady Rocks' double sweep Moline

Junior Forward Nicole Novak earns Pacesetter award

With six returning letterwinners and a handful of talented newcomers, the Rock Island High School girls basketball squad felt confident entering their 1994-95 season. With assistance from former Rock Island basketball player Lori Kirgan, Head Coach Rod Leatherman was able to serve the team a more complete, balanced program.

This extra support reflected for the first time in the ladies' season-opening games at the the four-team Alwood tournament in mid-November. The Rocks, who faced the 1994 Class A state runner-up Alwood Aces for the championship, placed second over all. "We have some rough edges to smooth out, but with playing experience, I feel that it will smooth itself out, " critiqued Coach Leatherman on the girls' first three games. Senior guards Elise Peterson and Stacey Scharer were named to the All-tournament team for their outstanding contributions and effort.

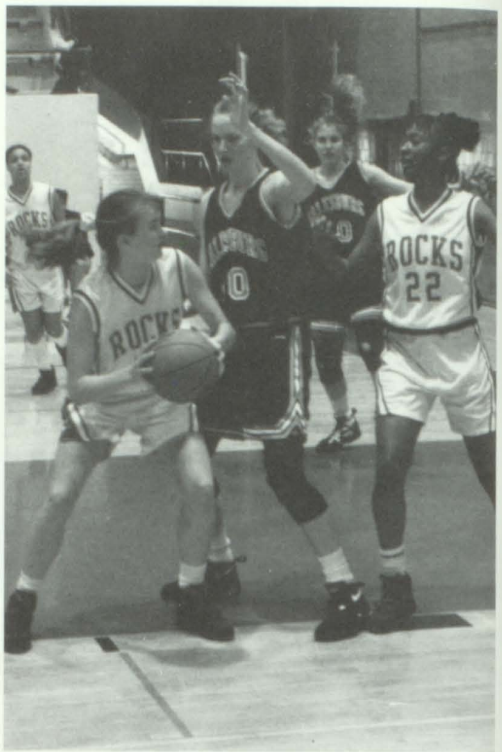
At the midpoint of their conference run, the Lady Rocks stood well in the standings with a 3-2 Western Big Six record. The highlight of their first five conference games was the defeat of crosstown rival Moline. Loosing by ten early on, the Islanders pulled together the last two quarters and captured the win by moving ahead of the Maroons 47-46. Mr. Leatherman diligently pointed out, "In the second half we were able to gain our composure and force Moline to lose theirs." Both the team and coaching staff gained enthusiasm and confidence from the uplifting victory to carry them through the rest of the season.

By virtue of Coach Leatherman's drive for equality in women's athletics, the Rocks, for the first time ever at Rock Island High School, won the opportunity to play a game in the field house. The Lady Rocks rivaled with Chicago Crane before the nightly scheduled boys' sophomore and varsity competitions. The strange, spacious floor did not effect the girls' play, as was proved by the 76-68 outcome. Junior forward Nicole Novak, whose effort earned her the weekly Pacesetter title in the Rock Island Argus, pounded in an astounding 38 points from inside the paint.

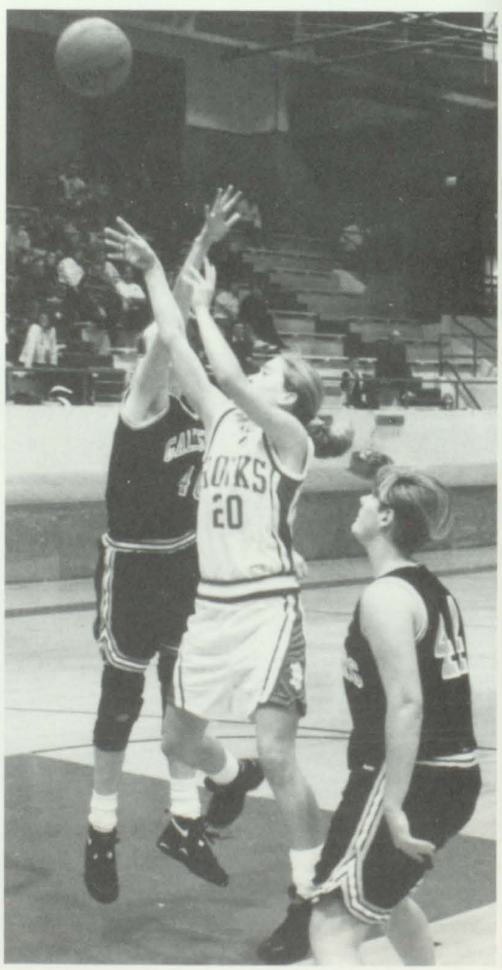
Later in the season, the Rocks met the Maroons once again in their second conference match-up. Rolling past them 52-49, the win gave the Islanders momentum as they proceded to the Regional tournament. "The fact of Moline being a rivalry, the two games in which we beat them are the highlight of the year," Coach Leatherman commented.

After advancing to the second game in Regional play with a first-round Rockford Auburn win, the Lady Rocks' season came to an abrubt end. The squad travelled to Rock Falls to play against the Lady Rockets in a game that would determine who qualified for further Regional contests. Ahead of the opposition 41-32 with five minutes remaining, the Islanders were unable to maintain their advantage. A last quarter rally by Rock Falls resulted in a 48-45 upset of Rock Island, who ended their improved 1994-95 season with a 15-11 record.

Searching for someone to dish the ball to, Christina Kelley turns to Corinthia Dothard in the paint.



Playing in perfect shell defense positions, Christina Kelley, Lori Coolidge, and Iesha Jones guard the Quincy offense.



Battling through two taller Galesburg players, senior point guard Elise Peterson releases the ball to avoid being blocked.

Skying to the basket, junior Dyanne Shivers hangs in the air above all others while teammates Tornita Johnson and Nicole Novak box out for the rebound.

Flying high over the opponents, junior forward Nicole Novak attempts to score down low.

Calling out the play that her teammates are to run, freshman Mellissa Hearn protects the ball from the defense.

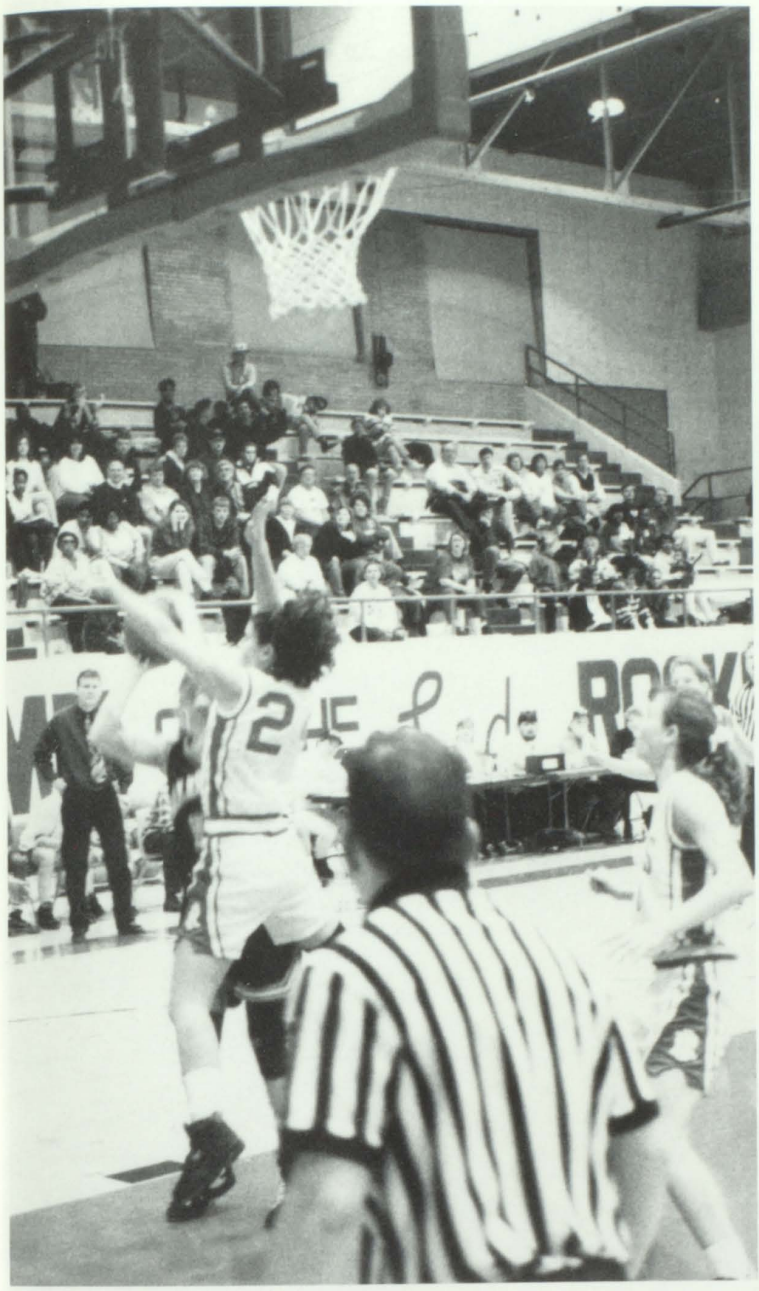
Successfully completing a fake pump to offset the defense, sophomore Iesha Jones goes back up to score a basket.



Using her vertical for the jump ball, junior Corinthia Dothard attempts to earn the Rocks first possesion.

Attempting to block her opponent's jump shot, Stacey Scharer throws her arms in the air to break the concentration.

Rocks bring home 3rd in state finish for interesting season

Many new records set tone of 28-5 season for Rocky boys' basketball team

The 1995 boys basketball team showed their excellence and went all the way, becoming regional, sectional, and super sectional champions. The Rocks performed outstandingly at state, and came home with proud smiles and a deserving third place trophy!

Rocks shot off their season hosting their Turkey Tournament and coming out with the title. In this tournament Rocky crushed Chicago Dunbar, East St. Louis Lincoln, and Pekin.

During Rock Island's conference season, they defeated all five teams, Alleman, Moline, UT, and Galesburg. Traveling to Quincy was tough for the Rocks, coming up short with a 48-50 loss in the first season game. On home turf Rocky turned the tables on the Blue Devils, pounding them with a 65-52 victory. This enabled Rock Island and Quincy to tie for the Western Big Six Title.

Regular season games weren't enough for the Rocks, they also attended shoot-outs and a tournament. Rocky traveled to Pekin for the annual winter holidays tournament and came up with a fourth place trophy. Not long after that the Rocks were honored to be invited to the Hoops in the Loop Shoot-Out held at DePaul University. Rock Island faced number two ranked Chicago Farragut. Falling short of Farragut's two national ranked players, Rocky lost 69-57. Rock Island also hosted a shoot-out, and came out the champs.

On February 4, Rocky hosted Geneseo, this was a big night for senior Josh Elston. With 2:32 on the clock in the third quarter, Josh scored two points to put himself over the all-time leading scoring record for Rock Island High School basketball team. Coach Duncan Reid stopped the game to honor Josh. He received the game ball and a hug from Coach Reid, along with that he received a standing ovation from the fans.

Due to their great playing abilities and outstanding performances this year, Monte Jenkins and Pete Mickeal received very prestigious awards. Named "Senior of the Year," by the Rock Island Argus, first team Illinois Basketball Coaches Association All-State, and named in the Chicago-Sun Times 20-man All State Crew was the amazing Rock, Monte Jenkins. Pete Mickeal deservingly received, "Junior of the Year," and after an 81-point performance in the four games including super sectionals and state became Rocky's highest single-season scoring leader, he was also named first-team all-tournament from the media, after the state tournament.

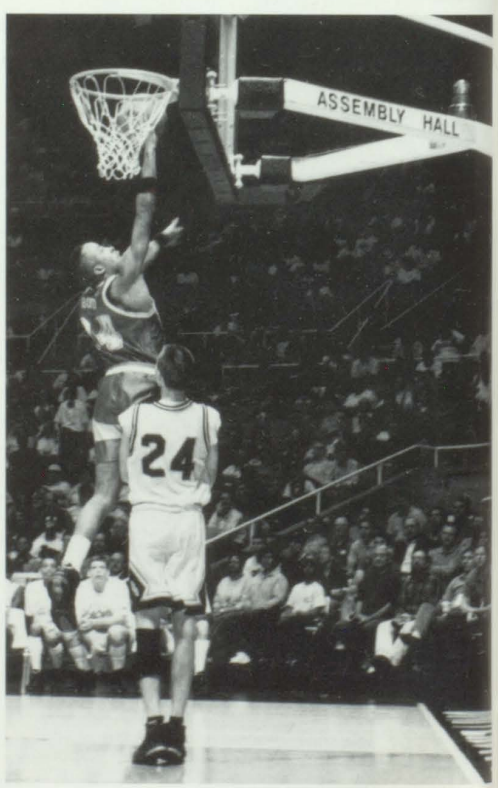
This year the Rock Island varsity basketball team played as an outstanding team, which allowed them to travel to Champaign and let the state know just how great Rocks are. The players arrived at Assembly Hall on March 16, after a send off pep assembly. The following day the games began. Rocky matched up with Edwardsville,winning 75-56. This terrific win put them to the Final Four. On Saturday, March 18, the Rocks faced the Thorton Harvey Wildcats. The game was a hair-pulling, stomach knotting one that ended at the buzzer. The score constantly fluctuated between a Rocky or Wildcat lead. With about a second left, Rocky had possession of the ball, the score 55-56. The ball was shot, the buzzer went off, the basketball went in and jumped back out. Thorton advanced to the championship game, and Rocky to fight for third. Only three and a half hours later Rock Island had to play nationally ranked Joliet. After the disappointment of the Thorton game, Rocky was pumped to win a third place trophy for Coach Duncan Reid. That is exactly what they did, for the first time ever Rock Island High School came home with third, after beating Joliet 69-59. Only two basketball teams end their season with a win, and Rocky was talented enough to do that. After a good night's sleep, Rocky headed home on Sunday. To welcome the 28-5 Rocks home, were excited fans, banners, and signs reading "Thanks for the Memories."

Amanda Loy/Lindsey Smith

With outreached arms and a high jump, senior Andy Milton tries to block the Thorton Wildcat shot.

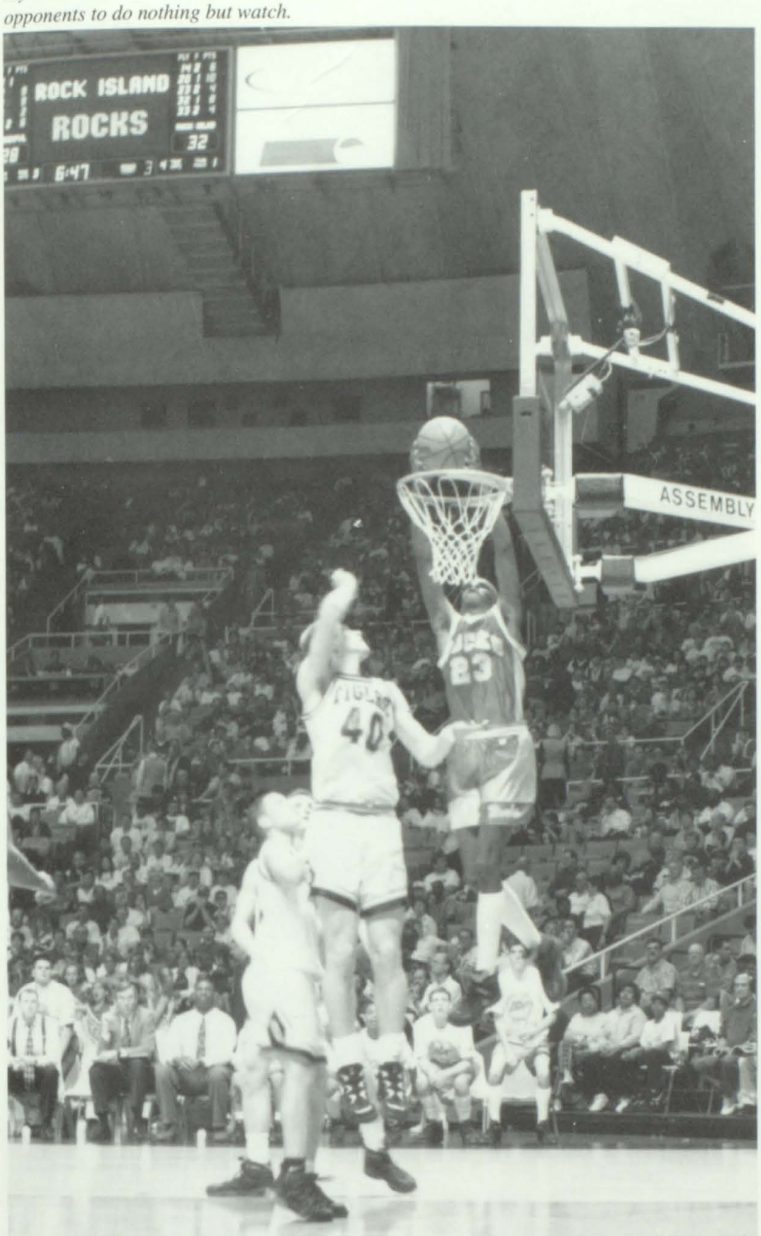
Junior Brad Wilson shoots to hit a three pointer in Assembly Hall against the Edwardsville team.

Pulling down another rebound became a usual sight for Rocky fans when watching Pete Mickeal. He was the leading rebounder in many of the games during the basketball season.



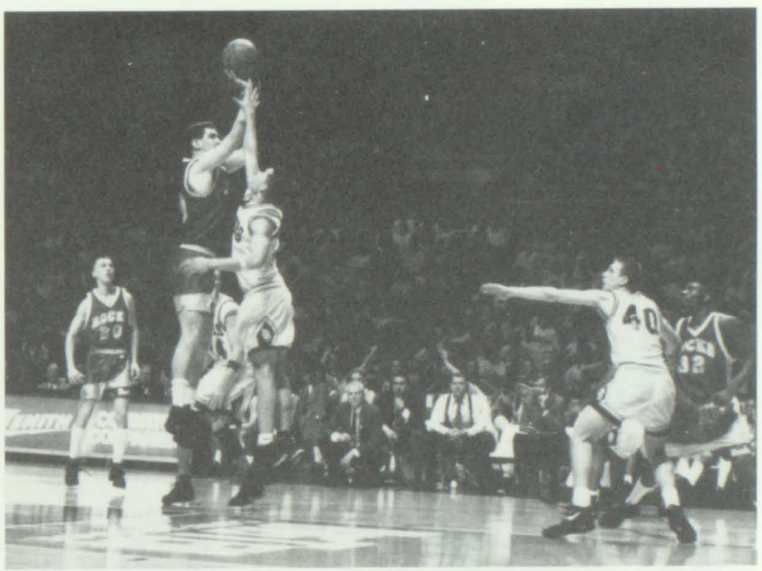
With outstanding height L.T. Boyd knocks in a layup while his tournament opponent stares in awe.

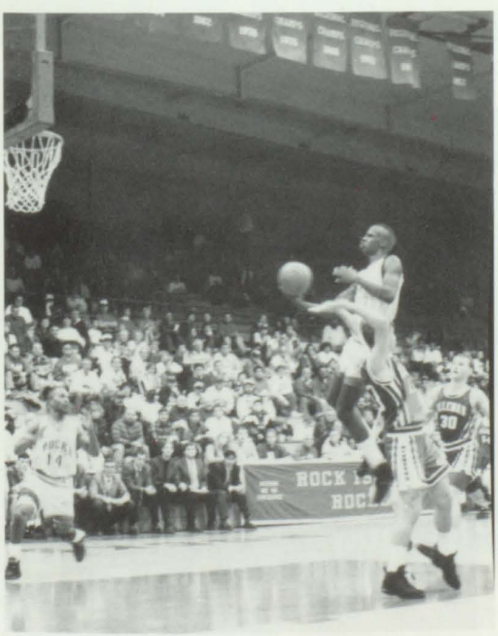
Way up high! Senior Monte Jenkins goes up high to softly lay another two points through the basket leaving his Tiger opponents to do nothing but watch.



Although he was up against the "big guy," Rocky's Pete Mickeal shows he still can do a great job scoring on Edwardsville.

Jumping up and over his Edwardsville opponents, Josh Elston shoots another successful basket for the Rocks.





On his home court Monte Jenkins seems to fly through the air to complete a finger roll to baffle his Alleman defender.

Varsity Basketball

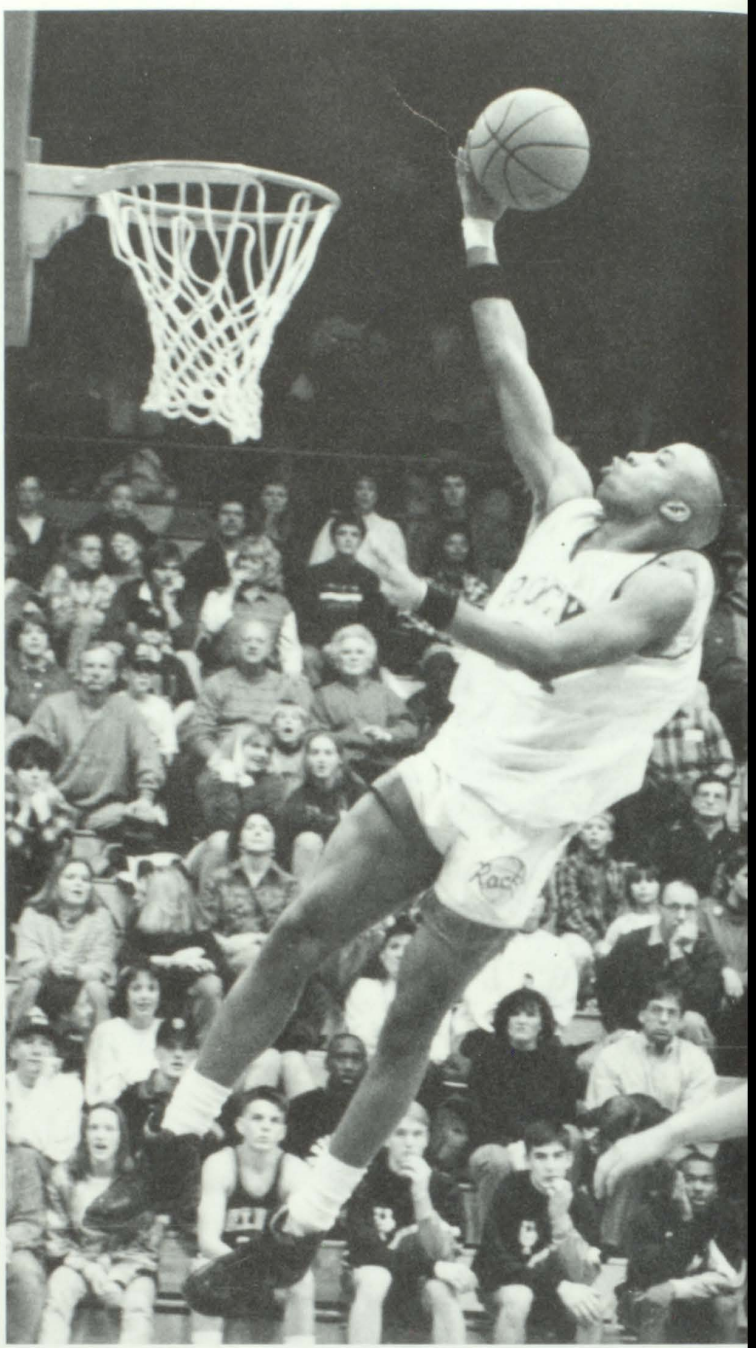
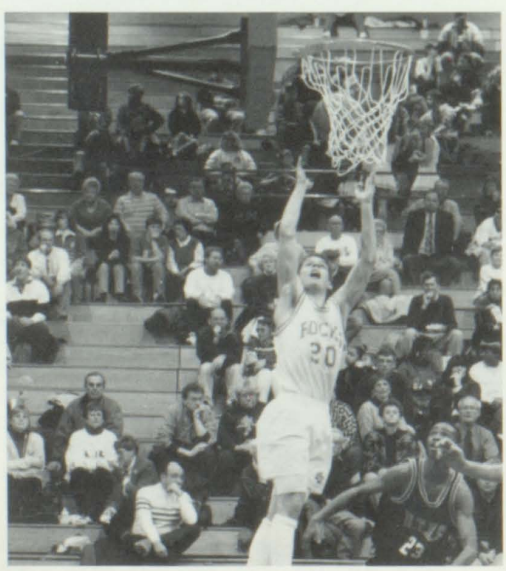
Using his unique form L.T. Boyd goes up for another lay up and two more points for the winning Rocks.

Caught in mid-air, senior Josh Elston gets ready to hit another exciting three pointer. This is how he broke the school total scoring record during the 1995 season.

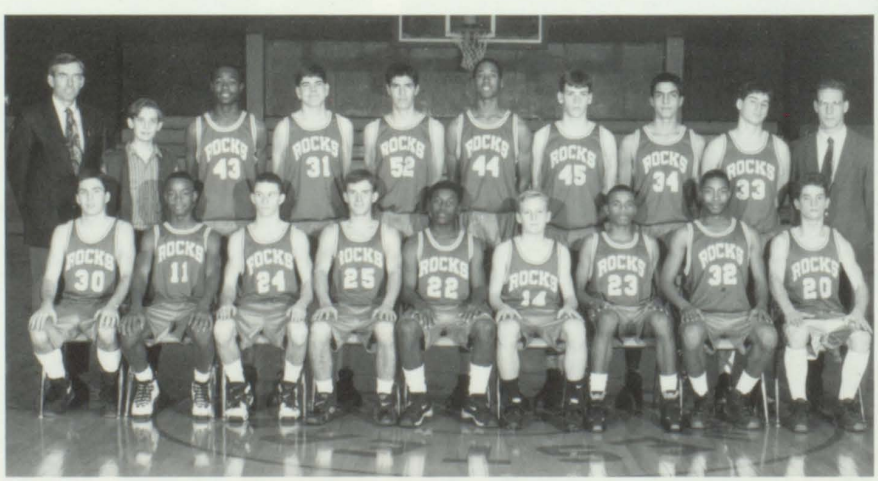
Holding back the opponent, Andy Milton and Cory Jenkins allow Brad Wilson to get a better scoring shot.





Jumping high, Luke Woods goes in for another of his two points during the game against United Township High School.

Sophomore Basketball



Sophomore Basketball Team: Front row: Justin Carter, Todd Foulks, Luke Wilson, Nick Nourse, Lamonte Nimmers, Scott Deopere, Larry Stevens, Dewayne McNeal, Luke Woods. Keeping away from two U.T. players to get his shot was not easy for sophomore Heith Gadient but he was able to prove one Rock could knock down two Panthers to get another two points.

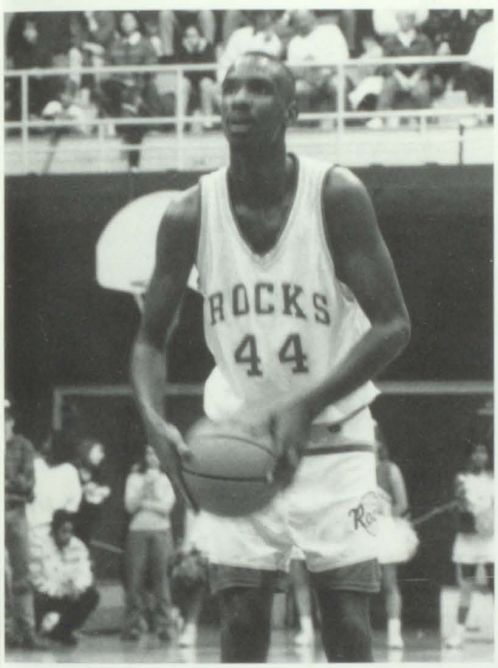
As his brother Monte holds back the Joliet Steelmen, Cory shoots the ball for another two!



Getting ready for a free throw, Cory Jenkins psyches himself up to make his carefully planned shot.

Freshman Jim O'Melia shoots a clear lay up to add another two points to a freshman win.

Bowling team takes fifth in state

New larger team promises good season next year

The Rock Island High School girls' bowling team competed strongly all year, with a competitive fifth place finish at state.

The team competed at the state meet on February 11-12 at Cherry Bowl lanes in Rockford. The girls started the first day in serious contention for the title. In a grueling bowl off out of 24 teams the girls finished in a superb second place finish for the first day. The second day fell off a few places to an excellent fifth place over the time rivals United Township Panthers.

Taking fifth at state wasn't the teams only accomplishment. The team gained many new members this year including freshman star Carrie Kerr. The team consisted of 30 members lead by returning letter winner and varsity captain, Brandy Bateman.

Coach Braet has always shown great support for the team giving helpful hints and outstanding support. The girls had a great year and they hope their experience will pay off with a great season next year.

Even coaches like Bill Hooks and Jim Braet have to practice once in awhile! In reality they are showing the girls how they go about getting those all important strikes.

New team member, freshman Carrie Kerr was a big help in team victories this season. She is a promising strong bowler for several years to come.

Showing the form she used to get some much needed strik during the season is Kristina McMurray.

Eighteen students get head start on life

Early graduation good idea for some seniors

Completing the first semester of your senior year is one accomplishment, but trying to get through that second semester without senioritis is an even greater task. But eighteen seniors this year will not have to go through that agony because they have chosen to take early graduation.

Many of these seniors have taken careful preparations in order to have this opportunity happen. Maintaining a good GPA throughout their high school years, passing all of their required courses, and getting a note signed by their parents stating why they are taking early graduation were some of the steps taken by these students.

Since English, social studies and physical education classes have set requirements, usually incorporated into eight semesters, students must plan carefully in order to meet these standards and graduate early. "I had to double up on P.E. and English classes in order to graduate early," explained Mindy Sheil. "On top of that I had to take both Federal Government and Consumer Economics at the same time," she continued.

To make early graduation worthwhile students need to have a good plan in mind. The majority of those graduating early this year did have their time well organized. Some were getting a jump on their career by getting full time jobs. Others got a jump on college by taking classes at local schools. Others chose a different route like Debbie Barman and Kim Sheer. They both chose to go see what education in a different part of the world would be like. Debbie went to an all girls high school in Australia and Kim went to the University of Valencia in Spain to learn the language of their country.

"I think that graduating early is good for students if they intend on working full-time and saving up for college," commented Debbie Barman. "I would highly recommend that students, if they are able, be an exchange student and get the opportunity to learn first hand what other parts of our world are like."

Early graduation is certainly a good idea for some Rocky students, but be sure to have a good plan for your future if you decide to follow this path.

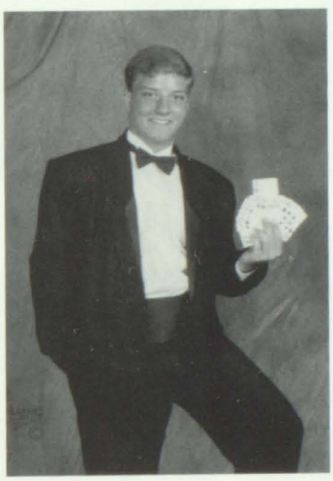
Bringing joy to many

With a little magic and some hocus-pocus



Everyone who has seen him at work, doing what he loves most, has to agree that Ryan Lawerence is a multi-talented young man. Performing is what Ryan does best and this takes him down many different paths. Whether it's acting in serious, comical or musical roles, Ryan holds the spotlight with skill and ease. Summers find him on the waters of the Rock River with the Backwater Gamblers Ski Club thrilling audiences with his daredevil antics.

Ryan's interest in performing began at the age of 10 when he became fascinated with the world of illusion. He was so inspired by magic that he began studying the art. Ryan says, "On the professional side of magic, entertaining and arousing laughter from the audience is the most important. However, magic's purpose is to prove to all of us that we can achieve the impossible."

Performing magic professionally for the past five years at business gatherings, parties and restaurants has given Ryan a lot of experience at his craft. Although he does perform simple card tricks and mystifying slight of hand tricks set to music, Ryan's favorite is stage illusion which links magic with theater and tells a story on stage.

A member of the Quad-Cities Magic Club, Ryan has been involved locally as an associate for Magic at the Mark which was promoted by The Foundation for Advancement of Magical Entertainment. Although he has an extremely hectic schedule, Ryan still finds time to serve his community by volunteering his skills at charity shows for area hospitals, rest homes and the Quad-City Candlelighters (a support group for children with cancer). He has brought smiles to the faces of many ill people and for the ill, smiles are sometimes hard to come by without a little bit of hocus-pocus.

More than winning

Making friends and learning are important

Beginning at the young age of nine, Casey DePaepe discovered a unique and rewarding way to express herself. "Ever since I was a little, I had always wanted to enter a pageant. A friend of the family saw an advertisement in the newspaper for a pageant and told me about it," Casey explained. "I ended up entering the pageant and I was lucky enough to be chosen as one of the top 15 out of 85 contestants."

Throughout the past eight years of Casey's career, she has won many titles such as, Little Miss Illinois, Illinois Junior Star and National Junior Star, Milan Indian Summer Festival Queen, Dahlia Show Queen and Miss Rock Island County Fair Queen, just to name a few. Besides pageants, Casey has participated in many photo contests and talent competitions of which she has also been successful at winning. "Preparing for pageants involves a lot of hard work and time. From finding the right evening gown, to picking the right song and practicing it for the talent competition, you want to be the best that you can possibly be," Casey exclaimed.

However, along with the successes of winning comes the disappointment of losing. Even Casey has experienced both of these emotions. "In doing pageants, you have to realize that every panel of judges has a different opinion, and although I have been fortunate in winning many competitions, I have also had many disappointments. I have been first runner-up a number of times," Casey added.

Along with competing in the pageants, Casey enjoys to sing, and she displays her talent by competing in talent competitions. Casey says she has enjoyed singing since she was a young girl. She has been able to continue her practice by joining the chamber choir at Rock Island High School, with which she has performed at many locations around the area.

Although Casey's career has been prosperous, she does not plan to give up quite yet. Casey is running for Miss Blackhawk Valley, which is the preliminary to the Miss America contest. "Over the years, I've done many pageants, but the pageant that has been my dream to win is Miss Blackhawk Valley. The Miss America system is something that I have been preparing myself for and this year I've decided to take a chance and go for it," said Casey.

The support of Casey's family and friends has undeniably played an enormous role in the success of her winning. "I could have never done these things without the support of my parents, they have always been there for me through every pageant and talent competition. I have a lot of great friends who are very supportive as well and I am thankful for that," Casey added.

Mardi Gras Ball is a night to remember

Senior girls act as attendants for annual event

"A Saturday in the Park" was the theme of this year's Mardi Gras Ball sponsored by the Junior Board of Rock Island. The 56th annual fundraiser was held on February 25 at the Mark of the Quad Cites.

The theme of this year's ball originated from George Seurat, a French painter, that created "A Sunday on La Grande Jatte - 1884."

The Junior Board is made up of a group of women who volunteer their time to serve the children of the community. The majority of the money donated by the Junior Board goes to the Well Baby Clinics of the Visiting Nurses, Homemakers Association of Rock Island County, and many other area schools and clinics.

Each year the Junior Board selects senior girls whose parents belong to the Junior Board or attend the ball to be attendants. The attendants honor the King and Queen for the evening. Each girl was escorted by a friend/boyfriend that accompanied them to the ball.

The attendants for this year's Mardi Gras are Julie Austin, Brandy Bateman, Megan Bisschop, Tiffany Chapman, Casey DePaepe, Amy Huber, Kristi Lohmeier, Christine Muller, Nanette Schwarz, Lindsey Smith, Laura Tutskey, Manisha Virdi, and Jennifer Wilson.

Some of the Rocky girls that were attendants for the 1995 Mardi Gras Ball included Julie Austin, Tiffany Chapman, Manisha Virdi, Jennifer Wilson, Casey DePaepe, Lindsey Smith, Nan Schwartz, Christine Muller, Laura Tutsky and Amy Huber.

The attendants were not only recognized at the ball, but they also attended a tea in mid-December and a luncheon in the beginning of February. At these gatherings Junior Board members, attendants, and their mothers discussed the preparations to assure that they know what is expected of them. The night before the ball, the attendants and their fathers met at the Mark of the Quad Cities to rehearse their part in the ceremony.

The evening is an exciting event that took much preparation, but the time spent won't take away the memories that each girl will hold for a long time.

To Be Heard And Remembered

Having the band of their dreams

About two years ago, five talented young men started the band of their dreams. Artistic differences drove two original members away from the band. Since then two new musicians have joined the team and they ended up with Dirge.

Two of the five band members are seniors this year. One other band member is an alumni from RIHS.

Sam Davis, vocalist and senior, has been singing ever since the age of five. "When I was about five I sang the solo to "The Little Drummer Boy for church and I have been singing with different groups ever since." Sam does a lot of the coordinating for the band but he gives most of the credit to the other members. "To me, Dirge, is my people. They know what burns in my mind," he said with intensity in his voice.

Some musical influences for Sam are Jimmy Hendrix, the Doors, and Metallica. "They are all musicians who influenced my personal singing style.

Sam commented on what Dirge was all about by saying, "It's about release. We get whatever feelings off our chest with style and anger." He continued as if he were in deep thought, "The X-generation can relate to what we're saying."

Tom Green also a senior is the Rhythm guitarist for Dirge. He is one of the original band members. Tom finds a way out of the everyday frustrations with his music. "The music lets me be free to say what I feel." He continued by saying, "No one can take my music from me, and no one can make me change it."

Tom's influences musically are Gun's -N- Roses, Metallica, Pantera, and Black Sabbath.

"Dirge to me means my friends who are my family, the people I love." He leaned back in his chair and continued, "Dirge is also my escape from the world that expects you to be a robot. The music lets me be free to say what I feel."

Ben Myers, a junior, has been with the band from the beginning. From wailing away on the microphone to now, Lead Guitarist.

Alumni Tony Reeves is the last of the original members. In the beginning he played Lead guitar. To him Dirge is his second family.

The newest addition to the band is Becky Pratt. She is the Bass guitar player. An off the wall audition brought her to the band.

When asked what the band's overall goal is Ben spoke up and said, "We want to reach fame, fortune, and most of all we want to be heard and remembered."

Ballet keeps her on her toes

Appreciative audiences light up her life

Balancing school, homework and ballet lessons four days a week is what keeps senior Tammy Quade 'busy and on her toes'.

Tammy started studying dance about 13 years ago, impressed by watching her older sister perform. "When I watched her, I decided that I wanted to learn too," says Tammy. Five years ago, she started studying ballet seriously. Now she takes private lessons two to four times a week with her instructor, Madame Zortta. Tammy admits that at times, practices aren't always her favorite aspect of ballet. "My least favorite part are the five hour practices for crash performances," she says.

Despite the trying moments, Tammy loves the feeling of performing at recitals in front of an appreciative audience. "I love performing! It's kind of like an adrenaline high!" says Tammy. "My fondest memories are those moments right before you go on stage, as you watch the curtain go up before a performance. Seeing others enjoy what I do makes me want to continue."

Having studied dance for most of her life, Tammy has learned many ways to perfect the skills she has acquired. "I've learned the tricks that make your leaps higher, your posture correct, your legs straighter and your arches more arched. My favorite part of ballet is learning all about ballet, and enjoying what your body can do." For practice, Tammy wears a pink leotard with tights, and for special performances, she wears costumes.

When she was younger, Tammy says she once had aspirations of becoming a dancer. "I considered having a career in dance or ballet but really it was more like living out my dream," she says. "Today I plan to continue studying in college as a minor, but have no plans of a ballet career in my future."

Although Tammy says she doesn't want to compete anymore, and that she "just wants to enjoy ballet", she feels that studying dance has taught her how to be competitive and more willing to accept criticism. "I've learned more about how to be competitive, but not to the point of being too extreme! Sometimes it's really hard to take criticism from teachers and other performers, but I've learned to overcome it and just enjoy ballet."

No hard ball played in finding this job

Luck lands fascinating job for Tim Lauer

A summer job is difficult to come by, especially one that is enjoyable. This task was not a problem for senior Tim Lauer, though, as two thoughtful friends introduced him into a very fascinating work environment.

Tim is the Quad City River Bandits' bat boy at John O'Donnell Stadium in Davenport, Iowa. "Dan Deibert and Doug Collins were the former bat boys, and they were going to be leaving for college so they offered me the chance to replace them," commented Tim. "I accepted the position because it is an original, different job and it seemed like it would be a lot of fun." Starting in April and continuing through October, he averages about twenty-four games per month. His actual job consists of filling up water coolers, getting towels, preparing ice for the trainers, retrieving bats and foul balls during game time, and keeping the players content.

Firmly shaking the hand of baseball Hall of Famer Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Tim Lauer is reminded of how fortunate he is to be an employee of the Quad City River Bandits.

"I can get free tickets, free food after the game, and during promotions, I get the left-overs," Tim said while talking about his job's perks. But along with the special privileges comes those dreaded errands and tasks that at one time most employees encounter. "I hate having to run and get the players food, cleaning the dugouts after games, and waiting forever just to pick up the guys' shower towels." With the limited hours he works, Tim makes just below minimum wage, but will often get tips from the players.

Fun was the major key that attracted Tim to such a unique job. He shortly learned that the players certainly take part in balancing the work-play scale. "The team likes to trick the bat boys, as I once found out after a humiliating, but funny, experience," remembered Tim. "A few of the guys decided to put a cup on top of my helmet, and when I went on the field to pick up a bat, the fans starting laughing and I had no idea why!"

Tim has started a collection of baseballs and player signatures since being employed at the stadium. Although he has not met any big leaguers on the job, he did get the chance to shake the hand of Hall of Famer Jim "Catfish" Hunter. He also asks opposing teams for their John Hancock in hopes that one of the players becomes famous. "The players are all nice and treat me like one of the guys," he said.

Of all the possible jobs oriented for and appealing to teenagers, Tim Lauer certainly has found one of the more exciting ones. He took this opportunity of being around baseball not only because he gets the best seats in the house, but also because he thought it would be a wonderful experience. And to his satisfaction, he wouldn't give his job up for world; at least the world of baseball.

Area parades will always find some Rocky students marching with the Metropolitan Precision Drill Team in their bright red and gold. This group was getting to the end of the route during the Labor Day Parade in September.

This group of freshmen found Rocky's newly redecorated cafeteria a busy, bright place to spend their lunch time.

Looking forward to retirement are teachers Mary Welling and Jerry Janecke. After more than 50 combined years of teaching, they will no doubt leave many memories behind.

Anxiously awaiting the arrival of graduation, seniors Lori Coolidge, Dalila Rangel, Terra Mason, Jessica Bigford, and Amy Monticeno bid farewell and create one last memory at the Rock.

Class officers for 1994-95 are juniors Ashley Hendrickson, Kellie DePooter, Elizabeth Langley, sophomores Rachel Barkan, Luke Howell, Tammy Vesey and freshmen Katie Lieblein, Jared Albracht, Annaliesse Hyser. Officers missing from the photo are Rosie Gray and Tricia Schneider.

School Spirit is something students remember when they leave high school and start the next phase of their lives. But students are not the only ones who like to sport their pride in the school they are associated with. Many Rocky teachers show their pride every Friday when they put on the famous red and gold to show support for the various athletic teams.

Food is always a fond memory from high school. International Night gave a lot of foreign language students the opportunity to sample a delicious variety of foods from around the world and watch some culturally based entertainment. Students look forward to the interesting evening every March.

This years' Chess Team was small but they took pride in what they were learning and worked to the best of their ability at every match they played. The team included: Front row: Nick Addleman, Matt Ring, Tim DePauw, Tim Dillon, Justin Gilbraith, Latisha Whitfield, and Lori Mueller. In the back row are Coaches Langehnan, Smith and Strupp.
